CAMERON TO THE RESCUE

Considering the new equipment and surplus ambulance acquired by Cameron Fire Dept., the City of Cameron is getting first-line stature for emergency services.

Now that the volunteer ambulance service proves effective, this additional equipment will give volunteer firemen auxiliary means for other rescue and emergency problems.

HIGHWAY HASSLE

There's a hassle in Austin over how much of the enormous surplus will go for new highway funding in Texas.

A proposal for $561 million is supported by the Governor and road builders and metro chambers of commerce. It is opposed in that size by teachers groups, Common Cause, and others.

Inflation in petroleum products has really hit the Texas road industry because so much asphalt is used in Texas highways. Texas Highway Dept. has drastically reduced maintenance procedures because of these major cost increases.

The struggle is over the biggest surplus in recent Texas history, that is how it will be used in funding public need between highways, schools, and salaries.

Apparently, the $561 million figure is favored by road builders because of this major cost lag which is indeed affecting a lot of Texas highway mileage. We can see signs of maintenance problems in Milam County and the area, something seldom seen five years ago.

Most of the federal freeway matching program is completed in Texas and the rest of the country. States maintain what is built. And this is compelling the builders to scrap for new funds.

Approval of the $561 million figure would leave $792 million in the surplus, which is "the bottom of the barrel," according to Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Texas roads are among the finest in the nation. If the asphalt roadways are to last, maintenance will have to at least offset the enormous cost increase since 1973.

We don't know what teachers groups are wanting in terms of salary gains. But it would seem none too difficult to establish what additional is needed to maintain the current Texas road system and to improve on what is needed for future growth.

It is also a fact that Texas metro areas, including dozens of non-metro areas are going to need better roads to keep pace with growth in the next decade. The road builders are not using facetious arguments to maintain some kind of status quo.

There is a lot of formulaizing on how school monies are to be raised in the future, both in local taxes and salaries. The move is toward more state funding, it seems.

gram for replacing obsolete street signs upon recommendation by the Governor's Safety Council. Code Officer Ed Bigbee also recommended drawing up an ordinance for handling LPG gas in the city.

Police Chief Kent Butler reported that he is having numerous complaints from residents about BB and pellet guns. He said quite a bit of damage has been done to windows and street lights.

Magre said present ordinances cover vandalism and trespassing and he did not think a new ordinance is necessary. However, he will do some research and report at the next meeting.

News Briefs

Man Flees Police

Sheriff's officers, DPS troopers, and Rockdale police combined forces Tuesday to apprehend Edwin "Sugar Ray" Williams who fled Rockdale police and hid near the railroad tracks in Rockdale.

Williams was wanted on a warrant in Austin charging him with aggravated assault.

He was slightly wounded by a stray bullet in the battle with officers and was taken to a Temple hospital. When he is released, he will be returned to Austin police.

Library Plans Due

The city of Rockdale signed an agreement with an architect to draw up plans for a new city library at a council meeting Monday night.

Councilmen tabled a bid on a water transmission line, passed a subdivision ordinance, heard the second reading for a Lone Star Gas Co. rate increase, and appointed Gus Backhaus election judge for the April 2 city election.

Lawmen Arrest Suspect

A former Gause man, Leman Bollinger, was arrested by Milam County sheriff's officers Monday in Gause under a warrant from Bell County. Bollinger had been charged with theft over $200.

The man was picked up and returned to Bell County after he failed to appear under a $2,500 bond in connection with a mobile home stolen at Nolanville on July 24, 1976.

School Out Early

Because of quarterly exams, school buses in Cameron will run an hour early on Thursday and Friday afternoons. There will be no school on Monday, which is a teacher workday.

Tax Refunds Show Growth

VALENTINE'S DAY was marked at Colonial Nursing Home in Cameron with a Saturday party, complete with Salty Square Dancers. As part of the festivities, Junior Historian Laurie Martin pins a corsage on one of the residents. Story on page 12.

Sales tax refunds to Cameron for sales in 1976 topped the total for 1975 by 16 percent, according to a report from State Comptroller Bob Bullock on Tuesday.

Total rebates in 1976 were $100-945.87, compared to a total of $87-297.19 in 1975. The statewide increase on the average was 14 percent, the report shows.

In the area, Lott showed the biggest increase, a whopping 32 percent as collections climbed from $32,618 in 1975 to $42,935 in 1976.

Other area cities included a 3 percent increase for Rockdale with collections of $81,565 in 1976 compared to $79,282 in 1974; Rogers, an 18 percent increase from $9,305 to $11-012; Rosebud, 8 percent increase from $26,700 to $27,851; and Hearne with a 21 percent increase with collections rising from $80,407 to $96-908.

The one percent city sales tax is collected by merchants and other sales tax permit holders along with the four percent state sales tax and is returned to the cities by the Comptroller's office on a monthly basis.

Board Names Graham To Replace Cauley

Coach Max Graham was appointed by Cameron school trustees at a regular meeting Monday night to assume duties of head coach and athletic director for Cameron schools.

The action followed acceptance of the resignation of Ed Cauley, who has taken a similar post at Lufkin.

Vote was split on accepting Cauley's resignation, with trustees Bill Hornung and Betsy Brown voting against the measure. Voting acceptance were Carol Barr, Forrest Sapp, Leroy Doscocil, and Joe Walzel.

In executive session, trustees decided to renew for two years contracts for the three school principals, vote coming unanimously when the session was re-opened.

A motion by Hornung to consolidate the school and city tax operations died for lack of a second, following a lengthy discussion by trustees on the proposal.

Costs would have been split 60 percent for the school and 40 percent for the city under the proposed plan, with the school paying secretary's salary, rent, and utilities for the tax office. A charge of $50 for use of the computer would also have been charged to the school. Trustee Brown said she couldn't see much savings to the school under the plan although it would be a step closer to consolidating the tax offices of the community. The city's advantage would have been to get its tax roll updated.

Hornung said he expects that the school will have to be on computer sooner or later to handle its tax roll and other school financial functions.

Supt. Buddy Dulin said the process would be expensive the first year and there would be a lot of headaches because the computer program is not set up yet and proven by the city.

Dulin showed trustees study sheets for the school's self-evaluation and five-year plan to be submitted to the Texas Education Agency in March. The sheets were a summary of basics in school needs and priorities, goals and costs of the plan.

Trustees will meet again Monday at 7:30 p.m. to finalize the plan and approve it.

Mrs. Glenda Moseley was appointed school election judge for the April 2 election upon the withdrawal of Mrs. Don Humble. Clerks will be Mrs. Bentley Hause and Mrs. Louis Hollas.

Barr asked if band and award jackets are being purchased from a new firm and reported that the new jackets received can neither be washed nor dry cleaned without ruining them.

Brown said the board should receive from the city a report on the recent traffic survey which was to include problem areas around the schools.

County Studies Valuation Contract

Further study of a contract with a Dallas firm to survey and evaluate some property in the county was authorized by county commissioners when they met in regular session Monday morning.

The firm, Thomas Y. Pikcett & Co., Inc., of Dallas, offered a two-year contract for the evaluation of oil, gas, and mineral property, public utilities, railroads, and industrial properties in the county.

A question arose as to the proposed cost, which would be five cents on each $100 valuation in 1977 and 1978. Commissioners agreed this needs clarification and voted to table the proposal until their Thursday meeting.

In other business, bids from county banks for county depository were opened and awarded as in previous years: 50 percent to Citizens National Bank of Cameron, 20 percent to First National Bank of Cameron, 20 percent to Rockdale State Bank, 5 percent to Thorndale State Bank, and 5 percent to Buckholts State Bank.

An election for county school trustees was set for April 2.

Commissioners also approved a revised order correcting a deed for right-of-way for the relocation of a portion of Freezeout Road near the Alcoa plant at Rockdale.

An order of election for the incorporation of Milano was approved upon petition by 65 Milano residents. The election will be held April 2 at the Milano High School.

Absentee voting for the election will be held in the county clerk's office until three days before the election. County Judge O. B. Harden said residents would be able to elect school trustees in the same election.

The area proposed on the petition for incorporation is bounded on the north roughly from a point where Hwy. 36 running from Cameron intersects the Santa Fe Railroad tracks westward to a point just north of the elementary school.

From there the boundary line runs southeastward to the intersection of US 79 and SH 36 where it turns south and goes about a mile and a half to the edge of the People's property along SH 36.

From there the southern boundary runs to a point about two miles away commonly referred to as the "Pear Orchard."

The boundary line then turns north to US 79, doglegs east to the junction of SH 36 and then north again to the original point where the Santa Fe tracks intersect the highway.

The area, approximately 1,250 acres, is roughly the tract of the old Milano community townsites that is carried on some Milam County maps.

Weekend Mishaps Net Damage, No Injuries

Property damage ranging from moderate to heavy was reported in a series of nine accidents in Milam County and Cameron over the weekend, but no injuries to drivers were recorded.

The accidents started off Friday night with a one-car rollover on the dump ground road near Rockdale. Driver of the car was identified as Brenda Brumelow of Rockdale.

No details were available on a cow-pickup collision near Davilla Friday night, but the driver was unhurt.

On Saturday night a car driven by Damon Seaton of Ben Arnold struck two parked cars in the 600 block of East 12. The cars, which received extensive damage, were owned by Charles Buchanan of Houston and John Hairston of Cameron.

An unidentified motorist struck a car driven by Leon Zavodny of Cameron on Farm Road 485 Sunday afternoon. Extensive damage was reported to Zavodny's car and the other driver has not been located.

A two-pickup collision was reported at 8 a.m. Monday on Farm Road 486. Drivers of the vehicles were Henry Gebhardt of Rockdale and Bennie Joe Ewing of Cameron.

Four minor accidents were reported by Cameron police starting at 11:45 a.m. Monday. The first mishap occurred on Highway 77 near the Santa Fe underpass when a panel truck driven by Leon Bell of Hillsboro hit a travel trailer pulled by Carl Volgel of Janesville.

Three of the accidents occurred between 2 and 3 p.m. The first was at First and Houston when a Central Freight truck driven by Arthur Taylor of Cameron collided with a car driven by Stella Smith, also of Cameron.

Another collision took place at Main and Fannin when cars driven by Anton Billy of Carthage and Esther Huff of Cameron collided at the intersection.

At just about the same time a pickup pulling a trailer and driven by Richard Ellison of Rosebud was in collision with a car driven by Delois Masiel of Rockdale at the intersection of Ninth and Travis.

Cameron Man Injured When Struck By Car

A Cameron man remains in serious condition in a Temple hospital after he was struck by a car Sunday morning at the intersection of Travis and Bigbee Streets in Cameron.

Frederick Scott Albright, 18, was struck by the left front fender of a car driven by Edward Matula, 40, of Cameron at 1:06 a.m. Sunday, police said.

Albright was transferred from a Cameron hospital to Scott & White Hospital in Temple where he was reported still in serious condition Monday night, a hospital spokesman said. Matula was charged with DWI.

Poole Files For City Council Post

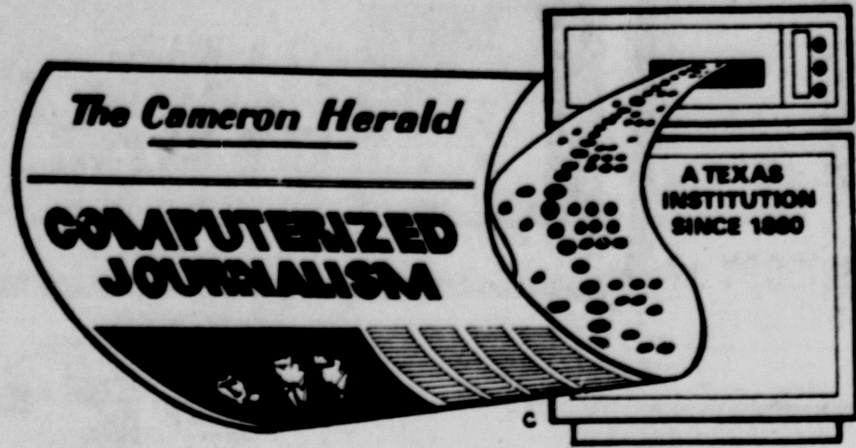

Odessa Poole has filed for election to Place 4 on the city council, according to City Secy. Buddy Fuller. Other filings include Dale Smith, also for Place 4, and Tommy Corley for Place 3.

Councilwoman Jan Luecke has filed for re-election while councilmen Monroe Fuchs and Gene Lumpkin have not filed for re-election.

Filings for school trustees include incumbent Calvin Cobb and Betsy Brown, and Becky Magre, a new candidate.

Figures In, Doubts Out...

We understand Cameron's sales tax gain in 1976 was 16 percent over 1975, while the state average was 14 percent.

It is a basic evaluation of where this community is and where indeed Milam County environs are going.

Up.
Up.
Up.

The confidence is in the indisputable language of numbers, the mathematics of business, the indices of real gain.

Not sensational, but ahead of the figures of a major metro state. That's right, we talk of Texas as a metro state, and not merely the curious oil, gas, and cattle prodigy of the first half of the 20th century.

Texas is indeed a "Giant" in modern terms, heading toward larger-than-life realities in contemporary society, easily to outstrip the "rugged individualism" of the 19th century which saw its limits in the distance cattle were driven and oil rigs were sent to production by mule power and rigged drill systems.

The space-television-computer era by its nature outstrips the legend of what came before, not in quality or character, but in sheer dynamics, size, and influence of the total lot of nation and world.

Cameron is part of that modern Texas phenomena. The figures are in. The doubts are out.

Helping The Potomac Behemoth

One of the more interesting approaches to getting people to write Washington about their opinions came in a Bethlehem Steel ad in some national magazines the past week.

It encouraged people to use an opposite page of the two-page ad which was pre-addressed: "The President, The White House, Washington, D.C. 20500, the page blank and a closing "Respectfully," already there.

This steel company was urging people to write their opinions on the energy crisis. It could easily have urged direct correspondence on any of a dozen major issues before this new administration.

It is a good idea. The corporate community is not likely to have supported President Carter, but in this example is joining the positive side of problem solving by getting more people into the act.

President Carter opened the door with his fireside chat the other day. Now that politics are hashed for the quad-ennium, the public appeal to the White House and Congress is in order.

And the public ought to take the initiative, forget the split vote for the incumbent for the while, and alter the course of the blinded federal behemoth which is searching for new direction on the banks of the Potomac.

tax refund checks jointly payable to a husband and wife must be endorsed by both before being cashed, so that neither spouse could have exclusive control over the refund from a joint return.

Q: Can a doctor or hospital perform an autopsy on the body of a patient who died in that hospital without obtaining permission from the patient before death, or without permission of relatives?

A: A coroner who has reason to suspect foul play in connection with a death has authority to order an autopsy to determine the cause of death. However, any other interference with a deceased person's body, without first obtaining consent of the surviving spouse or next of kin, is prohibited by law. Any unauthorized interference with a deceased person's body may provide the basis for a suit for damages filed by the person entitled to its custody.

Highway Bill Moves To Senate

Highway finance legislation rolled through the House with unexpected ease and moved to the Senate for a showdown decision.

Representatives finally passed the measure (HB 3 by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville) 121-27 after beating back a series of efforts to postpone or reduce the amount of aid.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe tagged the bill an emergency to prevent slowdowns in state highway building due to declining revenues and inflation.

Opponents argued unsuccessfully the measure should be delayed until after the general state budget is considered so legislators can get an accurate reading on how much money would be left for school finance, teacher pay raises and possible tax cuts.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby expressed little enthusiasm for the more than $600 million package in the Senate. (Another $168 million, under Briscoe's plan, would come from federal revenue-sharing funds).

Hobby favored a $240 million highway allocation proposed by the Legislative Budget Board — mainly from general revenue — and questioned whether priorities were out of joint in pushing highway funding to the top of the emergency calendar.

The bill would dedicate three-fourths of the state motor vehicle sales tax and all the sales tax on auto parts and tires to highway building and maintenance. It would increase road money another $76 million during the next biennium by limiting Department of Public Safety's share of the constitutionally-dedicated highway revenues to $30 million a year.

Controls Approved

The State Senate passed a bill giving consumers the right to sue to protect themselves against monopolies, price fixing and restraint of trade.

Under the measure, the attorney general could join in actions where the state has been damaged.

An amendment stripped from the bill a provision for automatic treble damage recoveries, leaving that avenue discretionary with courts.

Hearing Set

The Railroad Commission called a March 21 public hearing here on request of 28 railroads for a four per cent general increase in the rates and charges fixed for freight.

The railroads said their request would provide the same increase for intrastate traffic as was effective for interstate freight hauling January 7.

Increased costs of labor, fuel, material, and supplies were blamed for the rate hike proposal.

A five per cent increase request from the railroads heard last November is still pending before the commission.

Hatcheries Busy

Texas fish hatcheries will provide more than 24 million fish this spring for stocking public and private waters in Texas during 1977.

About 21.7 million fish will be stocked in public streams, lakes and waterways. Another 2.5 million will be distributed for private water stocking.

Fish production beginning next month will include 1.5 million striped bass, 500,000 hybrid striped bass, four million Florida bass, 700,000 smallmouth bass, 637,000 blue catfish, 31,000 flathead catfish, 128,000 sunfish and 14 million walleye secured from out-of-state sources.

Courts Speak

An Austin district court upheld constitutionality of a state law requiring illegal aliens to pay tuition in Texas public schools.

The State Supreme Court affirmed an intermediate court finding that a Falls County water corporation is entitled to $345,555 damages as a result of a thousand leaks on a 178-mile water line.

In another case, the high court upheld lower court findings that a Houston doctor did not misrepresent on purpose alleged benefits of a little-tried emphysema operation.

Conviction of an Upshur County woman and a 28 year prison sentence for an alleged attempt to hire someone to kill her husband was reversed and dismissed due to faulty indictment.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said bringing a slot machine into a Texas port aboard ship violates state law even if they are electronically out of commission and locked in a room.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A county hospital may not appoint a husband and wife as joint superintendents of a county hospital, since the law provides for only one superintendent.

A marriage license may be issued where one applicant has been divorced by oral pronouncement of the court more than 30 days.

County clerks also may issue marriage licenses to applicants who have been divorced from one another within the last 30 days.

Sugar cane, raw sugar, molasses and bagasse held by a cooperative marketing association are exempt from ad valorem taxation.

A person who performs solid waste disposal services may be regulated by the Railroad Commission as a motor carrier.

Ordinances Out

Texas Railroad Commission wiped out ordinances of seven southeast Texas cities reducing Southern Union Gas Company rates and ordered them to pay more as the company's supplier raises prices.

Cities involved are Port Arthur, Port Neches, Groves, Lakeview, Nederland, Griffin Park and Pear Ridge.

Meanwhile the Public Utility Commission recommended a $2.69 million revenue increase for Gulf States United Telephone Company which serves 26 east and central Texas counties.

Short Snorts

President Jimmy Carter has been invited to a symposium at The University of Texas Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs here in September.

Dear editor:

One trouble with scientists is that if one of them thinks up an idea the rest of them rush headlong into the project without considering the effect it may have on the rest of us.

For example, a scientist has come up with the idea of putting a giant mirror into orbit, positioned so that it could reflect the sun's rays down to earth at night. Given enough money, he claims, a mirror could be built and launched via satellite that's big enough to shed ten times the light of a full moon, just about eradicating darkness.

The main advantage of this, he claims, would be to give farmers enough light to work at night.

Well I'll tell you, any scientist who's spending his time thinking up some way to get a farmer to work more, hasn't got enough work to do himself. On top of that, it'd ruin the potato crop, as you'd never know when it was time to plant in the dark of the moon, or is it the other way around?

Before Congress appropriates the money for this moon-lighting project I hope it'll write in a provision requiring the orbiting mirror to be equipped with venetian blinds so I can keep the blamed light off this farm out here.

Somebody is always coming up with a new and unsettling idea. For instance, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi over in India, where they can make an atomic bomb but haven't figured out how to make a farm tractor, made a long speech the other day before a crowd of over 100,000 and when the speech got boring and the crowd started to leave, she had her police make them stay and listen.

It's one thing to deny the people the right of free speech, but to deny them the right not to listen to a speech, that's a brand new twist. This reminds me of the argument some people make against televising sessions of the U. S. Congress from start to finish. They say it would damage the image of that body. I don't think it would hurt Congress, but it sure would kill television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SAVING TIPS on electric heating

1. Keep heating equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
2. Set thermostat at 70° or lower. Lower to 50° - 60° if you'll be away several days.
3. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and warm air loss.
4. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, replace if dirty.
5. Thorough home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use. Can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.
6. When fireplace is not in use, keep damper closed.
7. On sunny days open draperies, blinds to let in warmth of sun.
8. Open outside doors as little as possible.
9. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns so air will flow easily. Clean often.

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I have joint savings and bank accounts. Would this property be taxable as part of the estate if one of us should die?

A: Joint savings and bank accounts which are community property cannot be governed by a joint tenancy provision in the contract with the bank or savings institution. Community property laws therefore would give each spouse one-half ownership of the joint accounts, and the one-half belonging to the deceased spouse would be included in the probate estate eligible for death taxes. Tax laws concerning joint accounts created before 1977 and including contributions from either spouse's separate, or non-community, estate classify as taxable that part of the joint accounts which is the separate property of the deceased person.

Q: I was paying for a home when I got married. I finished paying the mortgage after my marriage. Can I sell this property without my husband's consent? And, if my husband and I separate, is there any way of forcing him to give me my share of our income tax refund?

A: Property bought by a person before marriage remains the property of that individual after marriage and can be sold without the consent of the spouse. However, any community income utilized to meet mortgage payments could be subject to reimbursement claims by the spouse when property is divided in a divorce. Income

Screwworm Battle Gets New Push

By Bill McCutchen
Milam Co. Ext. Ag.

A cooperative effort to "Stamp Our Screwworms" in Texas and the southwestern United States will be launched Feb. 24 in Austin. The meeting will be at the Municipal Auditorium and will begin at 9:30 a.m.

It is vitally important that a successful effort be made to get rid of this tenacious livestock pest that costs producers millions of dollars each year. This is an open meeting and all interested producers are welcome.

The campaign bears the slogan "Mission '77: Stamp Out, Screwworms," and is designed to create a new vigilance on the part of livestock producers in handling and treating livestock to eliminate the screwworm.

The campaign can be successful because of three factors:

--The cold winter will reduce the number of screwworm flies in the spring.

--The new screwworm plant in Tuxtla Gutierrez,

Mexico, which opened last July will double the sterile fly production capacity.

--A new strain of sterile flies has been developed that should offer significant improvement over earlier flies.

Since female screwworm flies usually mate only once, mating them to sterile flies has proven effective in reducing the population of fertile screwworm flies.

Of course, to make the program work livestock producers must inspect animals regularly, collect worm samples from any infested wounds, and send the samples to the Mission Lab for identification. If the worms are screwworms, sterile flies are then air-dropped so that they can mate with the fertile flies.

The campaign to "Stamp Out Screwworms" is a cooperative effort involving the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Animal Health Commission, the Southwestern Animal Health Research Foundation, the other livestock organizations.

Texas Eyes Lead Place In Agricultural Income

COLLEGE STATION

Texas agriculture continues to show its muscle, and Texas is making steady progress toward becoming the leading state in agricultural income.

With the conviction that "we can do it," Texas agricultural leaders in 1974 set their sights on becoming the No. 1 state in agricultural income by 1980. And a current look at the situation indicates that progress is steady toward that goal.

The goal of reaching for the top spot in agricultural income, with the slogan "On Our Way to No. 1," was projected by Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe. Because of the success of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in mapping out an earlier campaign which achieved the projected goal of increasing the state's agricultural income by $1 billion four years ahead of schedule, Gov. Briscoe requested that the Extension Service assume leadership for this second thrust.

"Looking at current figures, we are making excellent progress toward reaching the potential goal of Texas' being the No. 1 state in agricultural income by 1980," says Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, who took over the reins of the Extension Service last June following the retirement of Dr. John E. Hutchison. "This progress is based on income projections through 1980 made by our economists."

Pfannstiel emphasizes that while the effort is pointed to increasing gross income, the truly important thing is increasing the net income of Texas farmers and ranchers. Of course, this hinges on more efficient use of all resources.

"Agricultural income in Texas for 1976 is expected to total $6.618 billion when the final figures are in," notes Pfannstiel. "This is second only to 1973 and almost $600 million above 1975 figures. Looking ahead, our goal for 1980 is $8.436 billion. Assuming the normal rate of growth for the states currently leading Texas, we feel that reaching our 1980 goal should put us in the No. 1 position."

Actually, the base period for gauging the rate of progress toward the Extension Service goal goes back to 1968 when an initial program was launched called "33.76 in '76." However, that goal of $3.76 billion was surpassed in 1972, thus causing need for a new goal to be set.

A breakdown of Texas agricultural income as estimated for 1976 looks like this (compared with 1975 figures):

- Meat animals, $2.492 billion ($2.466 billion); Texas is now the leading state in the total number of cattle and calves, beef cows, cattle feeding and cattle slaughter.

--Dairy products, $326 million ($299 million).

--Poultry and eggs, $367 million ($352 million).

--Other livestock products, $48 million ($37 million); major commodities in this category include wool and mohair.

--Food grains, $530 million ($714 million); the big decrease was due to poor markets for wheat and rice.

--Feed crops, $992 million ($998 million); income was down slightly due to somewhat softer prices.

--Cotton, $1.087 billion ($416 million); this gigantic jump came on the heels of a strong market.

--Oil crops, $164 million ($160 million); peanuts are the leading cash crop in this group, which also includes soybeans, sunflowers, and flax.

--Vegetables $203 million ($257 million); most crops suffered from lower prices, especially onions, cabbage, cantaloupes, potatoes, and carrots.

--Fruits and nuts $42 million ($46 million); a poor pecan crop was a big factor in this drop in income.

--All other crops, $107 million ($79 million); this includes such crops as sugar beets and sugar cane, nursery plants, and legumes.

--Related income, $261 million ($217 million); income from farm-based timber, fish farming, horses and recreation continues to show a marked increase.

What does this $6.618 billion agricultural income mean to the Texas economy?

"The effects of the agricultural industry on the Texas economy is tremendous," notes Pfannstiel. "We call it 'agribusiness,' and it added more than $23 billion to the Texas economy in 1976."

Slovaceks Celebrate 65th Wedding Anniversary

This Valentine's Day was the 65th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Slovacek of Buckholts, now residents of a Cameron nursing home.

Mr. Slovacek and his wife, Matilda, were married on Valentine's Day in 1912 in Buckholts. Slovacek confesses he didn't even know about the annual lover's festival then. "She's the one that ramrodded it," he said.

To the many area couples supporting precarious marriages, Joe Slovacek offers this advice: "You have to make adjustments as the years go by. If you always have respect for each other, then you're in good shape."

For a man who has lived with the same woman for 65 years, he is very receptive to the notion of divorce.

"With couples marrying so much younger now many discover too late they're incompatible," he commented. "It's better for them to separate."

But he added a disclaimer to his advice--if the troubled couple have children, they should remain married for the children's sake.

Mrs. Slovacek's opinion of divorce is much briefer than that of her husband's. Simply stated, she said: "I don't like it."

Mrs. Slovacek said she is "still satisfied" with her husband and wants nothing any other man could offer.

"I only want to stay with my husband until he dies or I do," she said. "I love him like I always have. There's nothing else to think about it. I wouldn't give him up."

Just as the Slovaceks have made adjustments to their marriage during the last 65 years, they have also adjusted to the tame life of a nursing home.

"We're well taken care of here," Slovacek said. "It's not home, but it's the next best thing." He said he and his wife manage to maintain a high degree of privacy at the Colonial Nursing Home in Cameron.

"We're both ardent readers," Slovacek said. "We just close the door to read and enjoy our privacy."

The Slovaceks moved into a room at the nursing home in July 1975. Slovacek operated a grocery store for 40 years in Buckholts with his wife's brother.

The Slovaceks have kept each other company through 65 years of marriage, and now they help each other through their twilight years in a nursing home.

"I dread the day when one of us has to leave," Slovacek said.

Slovacek and his wife agree that they've never had a serious disagreement during their marriage. "Some small fights, yes," Slovacek admitted, "but no gross disagreements."

Even though the Slovaceks wedding anniversary is on Valentine's Day, the husband admits he has forgotten about it often.

"I've never forgotten," Mrs. Slovacek concluded. "And I sometimes still think about the times he has."

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Civic Garden Club

The members of the Civic Garden Club met on Thursday, Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. M. H. Wimberly in Milano. Mrs. Jim Gandy was the co-hostess. They served refreshments during the social hour which preceded the meeting.

The program, a presentation on the facts and culture of Bromeliads, was given by Mrs. Jack Bigham. She noted that basically there are three classifications: Xerophytic--these require very little moisture; Epiphytic--these grown on trees or other objects, not for nourishment but for support; Terrestrial--these grown in soil and depend on it for nourishment. These have soft leathery glassy foliage, much scale on the leaves indicates that it needs to be outdoors more, prefers indirect sunlight, and the night atmosphere is very beneficial for good specimens.

The length of light hours helps to determine the prolificness (bloom) of the plant.

After bloom, the parent plant dies, but for reproduction produces new shoots, called "pups."

Ecologically, the bromeliad is very valuable for small animal life in that it stores water in its cup (center) and many insects water and die there and in turn these provide food for the plant.

As a door prize, Mrs. W. M. Fanning supplied a potted "pup" bromeliad, which was won by Mrs. Milton Falkner.

Wood-Burning Stoves New Red-Hot Seller

Old-fashioned wood-burning stoves are hot selling items these days.

Upset by soaring utility bills in a bitterly cold winter, cost-conscious homeowners are making collectors' items out of those vintage potbellied and Franklin stoves that once warmed railroad stations and country schoolhouses, the National Geographic Society reports.

"We bought an old second-hand parlor stove to heat the living room of our little rambler," recalls a man in a small Ohio town. "To our amazement, the stove shed heat throughout the house. Most of the time we didn't need to turn on the oil furnace."

Popular in Cities
Demand for the stoves reaches far beyond small towns, distant suburbs, and vacation areas. "My firm sold 3,500 wood stoves last year," says a Washington, D.C. dealer. "They range from small tin units and traditional Franklin stoves to fancy models from Scandinavia and cost anywhere from $20 to $700."

Large retail chains regularly list wood stoves in their catalogues. The sophistication of the units would boggle the minds of frontiersmen who had to huddle in front of crude fireplaces to stay warm. "The thermostatically controlled damper regulates heat output by controlling combustion air-flow," reads one ad.

Compared to many familiar household objects, the enclosed metal stove now making a strong comeback is a fairly recent invention. The Chinese supposedly used them centuries ago, but the charcoal brazier cast the dominant glow in the West. Appearance of the first chimneys in the Middle Ages opened the way for the brick-and-tile stoves that heated rooms all over France, Holland, and Germany.

Riveted the Plates
Records indicate that iron stoves first were cast in Alsace, then a German province, in the late 15th century. Soon other German and Dutch foundrymen were riveting iron plates together to form cylindrical fire containers.

But these primitive stoves left much to be desired. They had no grates or openings to control air. Most people continued to use fireplaces for cooking and heating.

Heating problems in the New World were, if anything, worse than those in Europe. Early American colonists with coal stoves had to import all their coal from Europe.

First Lady Abigail Adams wrote plaintively: "Surrounded with forests, can you believe that wood is not to be had, because people cannot be found to cut and cart it?" She noted that her household had "recourse to coals; but we cannot get grates made and set. We have, indeed, come into a new country."

Benjamin Franklin became America's heating hero. Fed up with fireplaces - "man is scorched before, while he is froze behind" - he invented a portable iron fireplace that protruded into the room and cast much more heat than a recessed fireplace. Today modern variations of his "miraculous stove" have never been more popular.

Mining Group Raps Hearings

Washington, D.C.

The harsh winter of 1977 will seem like a summer breeze if misguided proposals on surface mining succeed in putting America's vast coal reserves into cold storage, according to American Mining Congress President J. Allen Overton Jr.

Underlining this danger in the February edition of his association's Mining Congress Journal, he warns that "the threat is immediate and the signs are ominous, as hearings on surface mining legislation continue in committees of Congress."

"Proposed legislation is so restrictive in its certainties and intimidating in its ambiguities that its net effect would be to cripple this nation's chance of significantly expanding coal production," he declares. "If this legislation becomes law, in some snowbound future people may well rue the way the freeze was put on capital investments and industry incentives that could have helped energize our nation."

"The awesome inadvisability of the proposed new surface mining legislation was cogently explained last month to the House Interior Committee by senior mining industry spokesmen," says Overton, who adds that the "American Mining Congress has documented 14 major deficiencies in the House bill as it is now written."

"The supreme irony is that this federal legislation is not needed. No less than 38 states now have effective laws governing surface mining, and 29 of them have updated their regulations since 1973. Federal regulations in place and in operation now govern the surface mining of coal on federal lands. As a result, virtually all coal that is now surface mined is subject to regulations and reclamation requirements that are tailored to meet particular local conditions."

"We welcome these developments. We have long opposed any mining of surface coal where the land cannot be beneficially restored for further use after mining."

"But a gigantic federal scheme that arbitrarily places lands off limits for the most frivolous reasons, that imposes uniform controls on diverse circumstances, that sets up huge new enforcement powers in Washington, and that leaves open so many wide questions of interpretation that a few lawyers and zealots must surely salivate -- this is another matter."

"The root problem with the pending legislation," says Overton, "is the unbridgeable gap between the agreeable rhetoric on reclamation policy and the practical prohibitory impact of the legislative language."

Alcoa To Head Special Projects

James D. Shinn, potroom superintendent at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works, has been reassigned to process engineering department to handle special technical projects, according to works manager Duncan D. McGregor.

Farrell H. Sutton, potroom superintendent at Alcoa's Wenatchee Wash. Works, will become potroom superintendent at Rockdale.

Shinn, a native Texan, graduated from Taylor High School and attended the University of Texas at Austin. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry in 1950. He was a member of the U. S. Air Force from 1951-1955 attaining the rank of captain.

He joined Alcoa in 1955 as a staff engineer at Rockdale and progressed to assistant ingot plant superintendent. In 1962 he was promoted to process engineer. He transferred to Alcoa's Davenport Iowa Works and became assistant ingot plant superintendent there in 1965.

Shinn moved to the corporate offices in Pittsburgh and served as planning supervisor. In 1970 he returned to Rockdale as ingot supervisor became metal production superintendent in 1972, and potroom superintendent in 1975.

Early Filers Receive Tax Refunds

More than 32,000 persons in southern Texas receive a pleasant surprise last week when they opened their mail and discovered their tax refund checks.

According to Robert M. McKeever, IRS district director for southern Texas, the checks averaged $424.29. Last year, refunds averaged $389.56 for the same period.

He said that taxpayers who have not filed their returns should pay particular attention to the instructions on computing the standard deduction. This, he pointed out, is the most common error made by taxpayers who filed their returns early.

Baylor Students Join Outreach

WACO — Baylor University students are involved in "Good News Texas," an evangelistic outreach in the heart of Texas to the hearts of people.

Good News Texas, the 1977 evangelistic program by the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT), will sweep the state Feb. 20-April 24 with media promotion. The media focus of the campaign in Waco is Feb. 20-March 20.

"The Good News is the living proof that Jesus Christ transforms lives today," according to Marshall Edwards, pastor of Columbus Avenue Baptist Church and coordinator for Zone 7. The Waco area is in Zone 7.

"Living Proof" is the theme of the media promotion of Good News Texas. The state has been divided into three regions with a total of 18 zones. BSUs and churches in each zone will share a direct gospel witness during the media saturation periods. BSUs, or Baptist Student Unions, are vital to Good News.

Baylor, owned and operated by the BGCT, is involved with various aspects of Good News Texas.

"Baylor students will be involved through their local churches in reaching the Waco community," said Lonnie Hayter, Baylor Baptist Student (BSU) director.

"The Baylor BSU will be sending out teams for evangelism, discipleship, revivals, and music to Waco first, and then other communities and college campuses that need help," Hayter said.

The Baylor BSU is scheduled to send 25 students to the University of Texas campus in Austin April 1-2 to help that BSU in contacting its student body of 43,000.

Good News Texas involves a comprehensive, creative use of television, radio, newspapers, magazines, billboards, telephone, and direct mail. The media approach is designed to present the Christian philosophy to every Texan.

The campaign is the dream of Dr. James H. Landes, BGCT executive director. Honorary chairman of Good News is evangelist Billy Graham. Honorary co-chairman are Baylor University football coach Grant Teaff and actress Jeannette Clift George.

Questions Posed About 'Born Again'

FORT WORTH — The question of "born again" people involved in social issues catapulted into the American spotlight with the campaign and election of President Jimmy Carter.

The world is asking, "Can evangelical Christians take an active role in social issues and remain true to their Biblical convictions?" said Dr. James Dunn, director of the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission.

To help answer the question, a group of well-known theologians and social action leaders will meet with Baptists from throughout the state at Gambrell Street Baptist Church in Fort Worth Feb. 21-23.

"Their conclusions can have far-reaching impact on one of the most important issues in our nation," Dr. Dunn said.

Among the speakers who will discuss the relationship of evangelism and social concerns are Oregon's Senator Mark O. Hatfield; Dr. Martin Luther King Sr., pastor emeritus of Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Culbert Rutenber, professor of philosophy of religion, Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary Philadelphia, Pa.

1976 Established As Year Of Big Quake

Will this be the year of that "overdue" California earthquake? Will a big quake hit the East again? Or the Midwest? Will experts see one coming in time to warn anyone?

These haunting questions greet 1977 after "the worst year for killer earthquakes in half a century." That's the way 1976 looked to Dr. Robert M. Hamilton, chief of earthquake studies for the United States Geological Survey.

"No one would be surprised if we had a great earthquake in Southern California soon," Hamilton told the National Geographic Society, "but we have no basis for predicting when."

The last great quake there was in 1857, and the famous shaker that leveled much of San Francisco struck in 1906.

lestin, South Carolina in 1886. The National Science Foundation has $10 million this year earmarked for learning how to build better earthquake-resistant buildings.

140,000-plus Deaths Altogether, earthquakes around the world killed some 140,000 people last year, "but the toll could be a lot worse," Hamilton said.

Some 100,000 supposedly died in the two quakes at Tangshan, China on July 28 and 29, probably a conservative estimate, Hamilton said. The Chinese have said very little about casualties.

But the Chinese quakes, registering 8.2--strongest in 12 years--and 7.9 on the Richter scale, "scored almost direct hits on a city of a million and a half," Hamilton said. The stronger quake "struck in early morning when most people were home, and aerial photos show about 90 percent destruction of the houses, all mud and masonry and highly dangerous to be caught in during a quake."

Last year's death toll from quakes is the worst since May 22, 1927 when 200,000 died in a 8.3 quake near Nan Shan, China.

Americas Cup Challenge Is Sailors' Holy Grail

By Jack Cavanaugh

NEW YORK Reuter--To the late Ring Lardner, a noted American writer, the America's Cup yacht races were as exciting as watching grass grow.

Most non-sailors probably would share that view.

But the event remains sailing's holy grail. And judging from this winter's feverish preparations the competition this summer at Newport, Rhode Island, could become the most hotly-contested in the cup's 106 year history.

The British challenge has faded--apparently a victim of inflation. But challenges have again been issued by Australia and France and, for the first time, Sweden.

Millions of dollars--some of it tax exempt--also are being invested by backers of four American 12-meter yachts seeking to become the U. S. defender and hopeful of extending the longest winning streak in sports history.

Never before have so many American yachts made bids to defend the bottomless silver pitcher, labeled the "Auld Mug" by tea magnate Sir Thomas Lipton who financed five straight challenges between 1899 and 1930.

Two of the contenders--Independence and Enterprise--are sleek new aluminum boats. The others--the wooden-hulled Intrepid and the aluminum-hulled Courageous--are veteran defenders. Intrepid, the grand old lady of American yacht racing, won in 1967 and 1970 and came close to edging out Courageous as the defender in 1971.

With the possible exception of Intrepid, which may wind up as a trial horse, the American boats will take part in trial races during June, July, and August, the traditional method of determining the U. S. defender.

The four prospective foreign challengers--Southern Cross II and Gretel II from Australia, losers in the last two cup races--and one yacht each from France and Sweden--will face off in a foreign elimination series off Newport in August.

For West Australian real estate entrepreneur Alan Bond, it will mark a second effort to wrest the cup away from the U.S., which will be heavily favored to win the best-of-seven final series in September.

And it will be the third try by French ballpoint pen tycoon Baron Marcel Bich--this time in a new wood-hulled boat following successive losses to Australia by the 12-meter France in 1970 and 1974. Officially, the French challenge is being made by the Yacht Club D'Hyeres.

Sweden's entry is particularly intriguing. Backed by a number of Sweden's industrial giants, including Volvo, the revolutionary, computer-designed Sverige was launched last fall and has been holding trials off Sweden's west coast for the last three months. Entered by the Gothenburg Royal Yacht Club, Sverige has proved its mettle in races against its sparring partner, Columbia, winner of the 1958 America's cup.

The key figure in the Swedish challenge is Pelle Petterson, a world sailing champion, triple European champion and double Olympic medallist. He directed the design and construction of the 63-foot yacht, which is loaded with advanced electronic equipment.

Petterson, the boat's helmsman, said: "I'm very pleased with the results we have achieved. Even in the trial phase, Sverige has shown excellent sailing characteristics and remarkable speed potentials."

Unlike conventional twelves, Sverige is steered with a tiller instead of a wheel.

"We find the tiller works just fine," Petterson said recently. "Anyway, I prefer tillers. For one thing, the tiller system provides very light steering."

In all more than 60 companies are behind the Swedish challenge which has developed into a national crusade.

"If things work out the way I think they will, our chances are 3-1 that we'll win the qualifying trials," the 43-year-old Petterson said. "Then, I think, we would have a 50-50 chance of beating the Americans at their own game."

The U.S. is more than up to the challenge, considering that the 1974 defender, Courageous, may not even make it to the post for the final series.

Most attention will be focused on the two new American yachts, Independence and Enterprise. Independence, designed and skippered by Ted Hood, began competitive sailing last August against Courageous, which Hood piloted to victory in the 1974 America's cup.

Both yachts are owned by the Kings Point Foundation of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, a tax-exempt syndicate which built Independence and bought Courageous after its cup triumph three years ago.

Hood, a Massachusetts sailmaker, thinks there is little to choose between the two boats. "There are a lot of variables and it is difficult to say what advantages one of the boats has over the other," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Slovacek were honored at the party as we helped them celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary.

A birthday party for those patients who have February birthdays was hosted by the ladies of the Abiding Savior Lutheran Church. Water Lillies Eyed For Waste Treatment Ponds

Use of water hyacinths in treating municipal sewage may prove to be very valuable for smaller towns in some parts of the state, but such treatment ponds should not be installed until more research has been done, warns Hugh C. Yantis Jr., executive director of the Texa Water Quality Board.

"Two or three such ponds have been established by small towns in South Texas," Yantis said, "and we are watching them closely to see how well they work and what further research needs to be done. However, those ponds were built with the knowledge of the Water Quality Board and thus are perfectly legal."

"If we find, after considerable experience, that they are a viable method of treating wastes from smaller towns, the procedure would, of course, represent a saving of considerable money for the municipalities that can use them.

"We do know that the plants, by a process of metabolism, literally eat up the wastes in a pond. There is a problem, however, of harvesting the plants when ponds become overcrowded, and they multiply rapidly."

"There also is some question of plants breaking off and finding their way into downstream waters where they could become a serious nuisance, and we still need to learn what volume of wastes ponds of certain sizes will treat adequately. Such ponds, of course, could be used only in those parts of the state where they hyacinths will live throughout the year."

"There is a great deal yet to know about the process, and smaller cities should not become enthusiastic about the possibilities of such treatment to the extent that they might build ponds without legal authorization."

"It should also be understood that water hyacinths are considered a noxious weed and that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has jurisdiction for the control of such plants," Yantis added.

$100 GAMERAMA WINNER

1. Get a FREE Gamerama Master Card on request at the end of the checkout at store office. Get one FREE Game Ticket every time you visit a participating Minimax Store. No purchase necessary to participate. Adults only eligible to play.

2. On each Game Ticket there are four Gamerama Markers. To reveal the Markers, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Ticket, then separate the punched out portions and you will have four Markers. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the Games on your Master Game Card.

3. When you have revealed the Gamerama Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your Master Game Card. EXAMPLE: If one of your Game Markers is a 4 Clubs in the $1000 Game, insert that marker in the square numbered 4 Clubs in the $1000 Game. When you complete any row in a game, you may have a winner. In some games, you will find squares marked FREE and it is unnecessary to collect a Marker to be placed in such FREE squares. FREE squares are not transferable. Only one winner per card.

4. When you have a winning card which has been verified by authorized personnel, you will after furnishing your name and address, be awarded your prize. A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that the names and addresses of all winners be posted in all participating stores. When turning in your winning card, all your Gamerama Markers which are not part of the winning row may be removed and transferred to a new card. Only one prize will be awarded per game on any one Master Game Card. All Gamerama Markers in a winning row must be initialed on the back by the customer in the presence of authorized personnel. Tax liability on prizes is the responsibility of the prize winners.

5. Game material void where taxed or prohibited by law.

6. Game will end upon distribution of all Game Tickets. All prizes must be claimed within five (5) days after announcement of termination or they are forfeited. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, at such time as the verified claims for prizes in any category equals the number of prizes advertised for that category then the game as it relates to that specific prize category shall immediately terminate without notice, and any unverified claims at or after that time shall be automatically rejected.

7. Game materials valid only for this game. All game Tickets, Gamerama Markers and Game Cards must have the same series number. EXAMPLE: If you have Master Game Card Series No. 12, all of your game pieces must have Series No. 12.
